

A painting depicting a man with a beard and a white turban, wearing a green and gold patterned vest over a white long-sleeved shirt, standing at a wooden podium. He is holding a large, open scroll. The podium has two golden horns or trumpets on top. In the background, a large crowd of people is gathered, and a city wall with battlements is visible under a blue sky. The scene is set in a warm, sunlit environment.

Nehemiah 8:1-8

- 1 And all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the street that was before the water gate; and they spake unto Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.
- 2 And Ezra the priest brought the law before the congregation both of men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month.
- 3 And he read therein before the street that was before the water gate from the morning until midday, before the men and the women, and those that could understand; and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law...
- 5 And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people; (for he was above all the people;) and when he opened it, all the people stood up:
- 6 And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God. And all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands: and they bowed their heads, and worshipped the LORD with their faces to the ground...
- 8 So they read in the book in the law of God distinctly, and gave the sense, and caused them to understand the reading.
- 9 For all the people wept, when they heard the words of the law.
